“Success is a science; if you have the right conditions, you get the result.” So said Oscar Wilde and we say the same.

Whether you are beginning your career as an ECT or you have been teaching science for decades, to really inspire the next generation of scientists you need an environment with the right conditions. You need an environment where pupils genuinely want to learn. An environment in which your colleagues are as geeky about your subject as you are.

Whatever your level of experience in the classroom, it’s your passion for your subject that counts. We prize love of learning above all else.

If it would not be good enough for our own relatives, it is not good enough for our pupils. This is our school’s golden rule.

We want the best for every child, regardless of where they were born, how much money they do or don’t have and who they are (gender, race, disability, sexual orientation).

That is what drives us.

We want people who are similarly driven. We want people who will not only grow the next generation but also people who are eager to take every opportunity to grow themselves. We offer superb professional development opportunities, including the full suite of NPQs.

Our pupils are well behaved because we model how to behave. We achieve this through kindness and firm boundaries. We expect pupils to have manners and show respect to each other and their teachers. Anyone who does not show manners and respect is sanctioned and reflects on their behaviour so they make better choices in future.

If you would like to know more about the role, have a read of the job description or email Headteacher David Lowbridge-Ellis dlowbridgeellis@decschool.co.uk directly. He will be happy to answer any questions or arrange a tour.

Or if you are already ready to apply, please fill in the application form found on our website: www.matrixacademytrust.co.uk/vacancies and send to dlowbridgeellis@decschool.co.uk

Application Deadline: Monday 16th May 2022. We may interview earlier if we receive a lot of applications.
